PONZI GETS FIVE YEAR TERM

Sentence Is Only On One Of Many Counts

BOSTON, November 30.—Charles Ponzi, promoter of the quick rich scheme in which thousands of persons invested millions of dollars before it collapsed last August, pleaded guilty to using the mails in a scheme to defraud, in the federal district court today.

Sentence of five years in the Plymouth county jail was imposed by Judge Hale. The court took into consideration only the first count of one indictment of forty-four counts, in which it was charged that Ponzi had represented falsely that he was able to pay interest at the rate of 50 percent in 15 days from profits made in international postal reply coupons.

In arguing on the question of sentence, Daniel H. Coakley, senior counsel for Ponzi, told the court that it was only after advice from counsel and members of the discredited financier's family that he agreed to retract his plea of not guilty and plead guilty instead.

"Mr. Ponzi insisted and still insists that there was in his mind no intent to defraud any one," his counsel said.

The little Italian, who with prison sentences in Canada and this country behind him, developed his supposed scheme of exchange in international postal reply coupons to proportions that made him a marked figure in finance, only to have his house of easy money tumble over him when the pros of income from investors were pulled out, lost all of swagger when he faced the court. He was the same dapper man about town when he stepped from the Cambridge jail this morning as in the days when he was the idol of the street crowds.

As he faced another long prison sentence while his youthful wife sobbed at his shoulder, he pencilled on a memorandum block his parting words to the public: "Ecce transit gloria mundi! Thus passes the glory of the world!" and handed it to the press.

When he went up to the bench to pass a moment later he was complacent when he said, "I do" to the clerk's question whether he wished to change his plea of not guilty, and was equally as serene as he made the plea "guilty" in loud tones in the next breath. Then Ponzi fanned over, resting his head on his arm, while he listened to his counsel's words for a light sentence. Ponzi will begin his sentence at the county jail in Plymouth with 85 counts of the federal indictments against him on file, and with charges of larceny in many counts outstanding against him in the state courts. He is also due to face 18 creditors, of whom there are more than 11,000, on December 8, when he will be subject to their interrogations as to what he did with the millions entrusted to him, of which his federal creditors have been able to retrieve only a small part.

Columbus Bread Price Reduced

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 30.—A 10 cent reduction in the retail price of bread goes into effect here tomorrow. Small loaves will be sold for ten cents while the large ones will retail at 15 cents.

Wholesalers have reduced their prices from a cent to 1 1/2 cents a loaf, making possible the reduction to the consumer. It is expected that a reduction in the price of pastries will be announced soon.

ELMIRA LOWERS BREAD

ELMIRA, N.Y., November 30.—Bread dropped from seventeen to fourteen cents a loaf here during the past two weeks.

Revolution Brewing In Guatemala

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 30.—Reports of a threatened revolution in Guatemala have been received in official circles here, it was learned today. The Herrera government has been unable to collect the arms and ammunition secretly distributed prior to the revolution which overthrew Estrada Cabrera and more than 1,000 are said to have been snatched into the country recently.

Chief opposition to the government, according to the report, is in the high country, the mountainous regions where for months there has been talk of secession.

BOLLING DENIES EVER TAKING BRIBE MONEY

Wants Business Transactions Investigated

NEW YORK, November 30.—A denial that he had ever taken money for influencing the disposition of contracts for machinery by the United States Shipping board, as charged by T. M. Sands, former Washington banker, coupled with a request that all of his business transactions with Sands be investigated—"both for my own and my family's sake"—was made before the Walsh congressional committee today by R. W. Bolling, President Wilson's brother-in-law and now treasurer of the shipping board.

Sands has testified that he received $40,000 from the Downey Shipbuilding Corporation for "representing" it before the board, out of which he paid money to Mr. Bolling.

Mr. Bolling said he had taken a contract in 1916 to build a house for Sands and in making a settlement had foregone any profits.

"I volunteered to cancel my share of this charge ($400), which represented most of the profit I had expected to make on the entire transaction," Mr. Bolling said in his statement, "because of their unpleasant attitude. Mr. Sands gave me his note for this $400."

"A short time after this Mr. Sands told me that he had made, or would make, $1,000 in this transaction, and that he was going to take care of me. I told him I would accept nothing. He then mentioned the $400, which he still owed me in connection with the changes made in his house, saying that he had not forgotten it and would pay

JAPS NOT TO PRESS RACE EQUALITY DEMANDS

GENEVA, November 30.—The Japanese delegation will not make any proposal for racial equality at this session of the assembly of the League of Nations, it was announced by Viscount Ishii at this morning's session of the assembly.

"Japan will patiently bide her time," said Viscount Ishii, "until an opportune moment shall present itself."

The Japanese delegation, he added, also decided to withdraw its protest against annual meetings of the assembly, although it requires five months' time for a delegation from Japan to make the long journey and return. He recommended that meetings once in two years with special meetings in emergencies but said he would not press the point.

The Japanese delegate made these declarations in speaking on the report of the committee on rules, which was read to the full assembly at the opening of the session by Delegate Ferrari, of Italy.

Harding Inclined To Roosevelt Policy Of "Speaking Softly But Carrying Big Stick"

By T. H. E. PORCHMAN

A ROUTE TO UNITED STATES.

Nov. 30.—President-Elect Harding left the Canal Zone impressed with the fact that while disarmament throughout the world is a worthy ideal the United States cannot afford to be idealistic while other nations are enlarging their arsenals and navies.

He was particularly reminded of the disarmament question by the needs of the Canal Zone. Throughout his visit the ways by which the canal could be impaired if not destroyed by an enemy fleet were discussed by the military and naval men here, and Senator Harding came away with the determination to make the canal impregnable.

Mr. Harding believes action must be swiftly taken by congress to fortify the great gateway which strategically as well as economically means so much to the United States navy and merchant marine. Senator Harding is more like that of a roguish mountaineer than a private citizen notwithstanding that he doesn't take office for three months. This is not of his choosing, however, because the peoples of this part of the world have insisted upon getting rid of presidential honors.

Will Close "Black And Tan" Resorts In Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Plans to compel the closing of 35 more saloons, cabarets and drug stores charged with selling intoxicating liquors were ready to be filed today by Attorney General Brundage, of Illinois. Included in the list are two of the most notorious "black and tan" cafes in the city.

The "drive" to force closing of places selling intoxicants is declared especially at the "black and tan" resorts, Attorney Brundage said, quoting a letter from a downstate colored attorney predicting race trouble if they are allowed to remain open.

Families Flee In Night Clothes

DAYTON, O., November 30.—Families in adjoining houses left in their night clothing early today when a fire of unknown origin gutted the four-story building occupied by the Thomas Cusack Sign Company, which operates branch offices in several Ohio cities.

Two other concerns in the same building sustained severe losses, the total amounting to about $50,000. One man leaped from a second floor window, but was unhurt.

Prices Lower In The Spring

CLEVELAND, O., November 30.—Price reductions averaging twenty percent in women's clothing for spring was announced at the opening of the style show of the Cleveland Garment Manufacturers' Association, composed of forty-eight manufacturers of women's garments. Buyers from all parts of the country were arriving to attend the exhibits of spring and summer styles which will continue through Friday.

Assassin Fatally Wounds Self

GUATEMALA CITY, GUATEMALA, November 30.—Francisco Carrión, former general in the Mexican army, and accused of the assassination of President Francisco Madero in February, 1913, inflicted fatal injuries upon himself near here today.

Chief opposition to the government, according to the report, is in the high country, the mountainous regions where for months there has been talk of secession.

Carrión confessed in 1915 to having assassinated Madero and also President Huerta, the president of Mexico, during the Madero administration.

SARAH BERNHARDT, DESPITE ILL HEALTH, IS STILL WORKING FOR "HER FRANCE"

Sarah Bernhardt, seated at right, presiding at Paris orphanage committee meeting.

Madame Sarah Bernhardt, the world-famous French actress, was one of the prominent Parisian women who attended the committee meeting of the "Orphange of the Arts Society" in the beautiful mansion of Mrs. Hortense Schneider in Paris. Madame Bernhardt officiated as president at the meeting. Madame has long been in very poor health, but she of the indomitable courage so well known over the world, is ready to aid any project for her "dear France."

BRITAIN GUARDING HER PUBLIC BUILDINGS; FEAR UNEMPLOYED AND SNN FEIN OUTBREAKS

LONDON, November 30.—The police of London and numerous other English cities continued today to establish elaborate safeguards against possible destruction of property and assassinations by elements which the authorities characterize as Sinn Fein.

A report is being circulated generally about London that the government fears trouble not only from the Sinn Fein, but also from the thousands of unemployed who recently experienced an angry temper in the Downing street riot.

Police declare their policy is to take no risks and therefore they have prepared for eventualities.

Besides the somewhat sensational measures already taken to protect the lives of officials in the government buildings, the special civilian constabulary of London has been notified to hold itself in readiness to assist the regular police should the necessity arise.

There was a rush today by property owners for insurance, especially on timber stocks throughout London.

BELFAST, November 30.—The city hall at Cork was set on fire this morning and reports from that city state the Thomas Ashe Sinn Fein Club and the Charlotte Quay are ablaze. Much damage has been done, it is stated.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—A bomb was exploded at one o'clock this morning in the building occupied by a hide merchant in old Swan lane near London bridge. A floor of the building was wrecked but nobody was injured.

The premises of the Sina Fein bank in Harcourt street, Dublin were set on fire early this morning, says a dispatch to the Exchange telegraph from Dublin.

MACHROON, IRELAND, Nov. 30.—Two lorries loads of recruits in training for the Black and Tan auxiliary police, were ambushed near here last night by from eighty to one hundred men and fifteen of them were killed. The bodies were brought here this evening.

Already reprisals have begun and Steven J. Long a resident of Columbus, died in this city on account of the death of his brother Isaac C. Long, who returned home. He is perhaps the youngest looking veteran of the Civil War now living, although he is eighty years of age.

Rev. B. D. Evans who was pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city fourteen years ago, and Rev. W. T. Blume now located at Marion came back to officiate at the funeral of Isaac C. Long.

Miss Ethel Eubanks superintendent of music at Five Points near Mt. Sterling, Ohio, spent the short holidays with the family of her father Albert L. Eubanks and grandfather Andrew McMillen.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Barbour of Columbus spent the week end with relatives in this city.

Frederick E. Jones is perhaps the first Jackson county man to receive good news from his investments in the oil fields of Louisiana.

John McCartney Dies

Soule John McCartney of Liberty township, one of the most widely known of veterans of the Civil War died Friday while on a visit to relatives at Springfield. The remains will be brought back to this county for interment. His son Elmer has moved to Springfield, only recently. Other sons Robert and E. A. McCartney and a daughter Mrs. Bowen were already there. The youngest daughter lived with him and made the visit with him. A nephew Joseph A. McCartney lives west of Jackson on the Belmont road.

Pastor Hearing Postponed Again

Capt. J. B. Manus chief of the police of the W.C. Fair at the Chillicothe terminal, Capt. Edward D. Baker of the Intelligence office at the Grand Central station at Chillicothe, serving the 2d, and O. accompanied by attorney Raymond Elliott, a former member of the Legislature, and Hon. John Phillips of Chillicothe, came to Jackson to day and arranged for a second postponement of the hearing in the case of Samuel M. Pastor of Oak Hill charged with a serious offense. The hearing was now set for Monday, January 3rd when the grand jury meets in Jackson. It will be before Justice John Motz. It is probable that a large number of witnesses may be needed in the case, for there are five charges.

nated with the West Virginia authorities and has been informed that that number was issued to D. B. Crockett of Charleston, W. Va., for a Veltro roaster, but the machine seized was a Dixie Fryer with a green body. When Davis was ready to start to Jackson, Crockett arrived and proved ownership and received the machine.

Mrs. Ivy Sims and three children Walter, Sarah and Anna Mary of Columbus are visiting relatives in Jackson.

Prof. Evans Ladies Hearing

Prof. David J. Evans who was reported as having suffered a paralytic stroke on Thanksgiving day is in a much better condition than at first supposed. It develops that he has lost only the sense of hearing, for all his other faculties are normal. He is able to speak freely, and I eat, handle fast food and move his body, the only effect of his stroke being inability to move anything. The hearing of one ear has been defective since his childhood. Hope is entertained for his ultimate recovery, even in the matter of hearing. He has been a teacher in Ohio public and state institutions for forty-five years. His first school was in the Jackson district in Hamilton Township, and he has been a member of the faculty of the Ohio University since 1882.

Mrs. Katie Kuree of Ashland, Kentucky, came to Jackson to spend Thanksgiving and the week end with her son William Kuree employed here.

Young Needywoman Rewarded

A notable event of the past week was an exhibit of needlework at the new school building, done by very young girls during the six summer under the auspices of the Mother's Club. Prizes were awarded in four classes as follows: First—Tabitha Edgerton, Margaret Shoemaker, Anna Elliott, Mildred Jones, Second Prize: Mildred Davis, Evelyn Shean, Virginia McElvee, and Thelma Shaffer.

Mrs. Elmer and young daughter Miss Tabitha went to Chillicothe to spend the week end with the family of her sister.

Really to Be Reappraised

An order has been issued by the State Auditor for the reappraisal of Jackson county realty in 1921.

Fire Destroys Dewey Store In Jasper; Loss Near $40,000

Origin Of Fire Is Unknown;
Firm's Business To Go Right
On; Other Buildings Saved

Dewey's big store building at Jasper, near Peketon, was wiped out by fire of unknown origin about five o'clock this Tuesday morning.

Two hours later the large frame structure and its contents, representing a loss of about $40,000, was nothing but a smoldering ruin.

The fire, which started in the front of the building, was discovered by Charles Stigle, of back of Jasper, who was passing the store on his way to the Sefton bottoms to check corn. He gave the alarm and first awakened Robert and Pearl Vulgoore, who helped in spreading the cry of "fire." It was only in short time before the entire population of the village was on hand to help battle the flames.

At eight o'clock this morning, while smoke was still rising from the ruins, one of the Dewey firm announced that a store would be opened to-day in a frame building just opposite the J. W. Dewey home, a stock of groceries and notions to be put in the building as soon as the supplies could be gotten to Jasper from Portsmouth, Peketon, Waverly and Chillicothe.

The building destroyed was the main business structure of the firm, which housed the groceries, dry-goods, shoes, notions, hats, caps, gloves, blankets, comforts, hardware and a large stock of wallpaper. Deweys have three other frame buildings at Jasper which house their queesware department, furniture department and ready-to-wear and Vetrolo departments. These buildings are all separate, and the fact that no wind was stirring saved other structures from catching fire. The garrison building is just across the road from the big frame structure destroyed, and that building and the Mrs. Ella Metcalf home adjoining were saved by the fire-fighters.

The hand pump engine from Peketon and the hook and ladder from Waverly were called to the scene, and with all the men in Jasper helping with buckets, the frame buildings just across the main road were soaked with water. No effort was made to stop the flames on the main building as the fire had made rapid headway by the time the fire-fighters started their good work.

The main store occupied a frame building owned by the Cutler heirs of Jasper. Mrs. George Wilson, who conducts a smaller boarding house, is one of the heirs, the building being rented by the Deweys.

The Dewey store is run by John W. Dewey and Charles W. Dewey, sons of the late J. W. Dewey, Sr., who established the store in 1875. Paul Dewey, a son of J. W. Dewey, and Floyd Dewey, a nephew of J. W. Dewey, are also identified in the business. Local wholesale houses sold large shipments to the Deweys.

The loss to the contents is between $35,000 and $40,000, with between $15,000 and $20,000 insurance. The loss to the building is estimated at about $5,000, with about $1200 insurance, making the total loss just about half covered by insurance.

Noise Alone Will Not Win.

There is such a thing as detracting from the main issue by the noise you make in doing it. Folks get tired or plain noise. To merit persistent survival noise should have some merit in itself. In some towns they have ordinances against unnecessary noises. That in itself ought to be an argument against noise for noise's sake. And unless you can continually produce something that claims the patience of the people you will soon lose any power your noise once had to win attention. You must see to it that your actions are sufficiently worthy to stand alone when the noise stops. If people begin to associate you with noise alone you will soon be lost to human interest.

SLOAN'S GOES RIGHT TO THE ACHING SPOT

You can just tell by its healthy, stimulating odor, that it is going to do you good.

THOUSANDS of men and women, when the least little rheumatic "twitch" assails them, have Sloan's Liniment ready to knock it out. Popular for a third of a century ago—for more popular today.

That's because it is so wonderfully helpful in relieving external aches and pains—rheumatism, lameness, backache, neuralgia, overstrained muscles, stiff joints, weather-exposed regions. A little—all that is necessary, for a soon-as-possible return, to the sort of life you had before falling to the sore spot. No time, no stained skin. All—$2.50—$5.00, $1.40.

Violent thunderstorms in India.

Indian thunderstorms are notoriously violent, though comparatively harmless. According to Montagu Ellington, the settler of the month, the month in India is accompanied by such an electric concussion "as can scarcely be imagined by those who have only seen that phenomenon in a temperate climate."

It generally begins with violent blazes of light, which are succeeded by floods of rain. For some hours lightning is seen almost without intermission; sometimes it only illuminates the sky and shows the clouds near the horizon; at others it dislocates the distant hills, and again leaves all in darkness, when in an instant it reappears in vivid and strobe-like flashes and exhibits the nearest objects in all the brightness of day. During all this time the distant thunder never ceases to roll and is only silenced by some reverberant peak, which bursts on the ear with such a dull roar that it cannot even be heard to strike the most insensible heart, with awe—"Scientific American."

Clare, Wallen, Bruce, Powell and Vaughn Brock, girls of Schenectady, young men, will be required to appear in Municipal court to meet complaints of disorderly conduct made against them in complaints filed by C. Scott Scott in marking the complaints told the officers that the young men disturbed a religious meeting at Schenectady by their indecent conduct.

BOY BITTEN BY MAD DOG

Harold Jones, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jones of 1415 Waller street, who was bitten by a mad dog was rushed to Columbus by automobile Monday, the boy to be given the Pasteur treatment there.

Early Saturday morning the boy was playing in the back yard of his home when a neighbor's eight month old pup came into the yard and bit the boy on the right leg just above the shoe top.

The dog was immediately killed by Officer Theodore Brumham and the head was sent to Columbus for examination. Word was received from Columbus Monday morning that the dog suffered from rabies. The parents decided at once that it would be safer to take the child to Columbus to secure the Pasteur treatment at

He is editor of "Musical America" and president of the Musical Alliance of the United States. Seven years ago he brought to public attention the fact that this country was then spending $50,000,000 a year on music, musical education and musical industries. He is seventy-two.

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS ARE BUSY ENROLLING RED CROSS MEMBERS

High School pupils are hard at work this week in the interest of the Fourth Red Cross Roll Call and although no definite reports have been received from these sources encouraging results are expected.

These canvassers together with the other workers that aided in the house-to-house canvass are canvassing their respective districts to enroll more members.

Reports have been received from some of the country districts and each of these have increased their total over that of last year. Many of the rural districts have not as yet been heard from.

This week marks the final canvass of the Fourth Roll Call and Orta. E. Bicker, chairman of the Call urges organization to do so this week.

Everyone who has not yet joined the organization should do so now. A total of 3679 subscriptions has so far been reported to headquarters.

He will be here to begin his new work about January 1st.

The First Baptist church has been without a pastor since Rev. F. L. Averill left for Columbus, some time ago.

BOY IS HIT BY AUTOMOBILE; DRIVER OF MACHINE ESCAPES

Robert Taylor, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Taylor, of 2932 front of his home when struck by the Walnut street, East Portsmouth, suffered a serious fracture of the right femur, the large bone in the leg above the knee, Monday evening about seven o'clock, when struck by an automobile in front of his home, the young woman driver of the machine, employing a clever ruse to escape without her identity being known.

The boy was on his way home from to help her. She went out and lost no time in getting her machine off the track and out of sight, for she never returned.

Dr. Carl Brannan was called and he found the child suffering with a serious fracture of the leg.

Mrs. Taylor described the woman as about 20 years of age, low and "chunky." She wore a checked skirt, three-quarter length black coat and

Family Is In Distress

The almost pitiful case of another ex-soldier, disabled in the service and neglected by the government, is being temporarily cared for by the local Red Cross chapter.

While in one of the camps in this country, the man fell and struck his head a severe blow and ever since has been subjected to epileptic fits.

Four members of the family all live in one small room.

The man is unable to work because of these attacks. Only recently while at work at the N. & W. he suffered

Dear Dolly—

It never occurred to they have. What is the recipe for mayonnaise dressing?

DOUGHBOY.

About placing books in the library,

consult Miss Anna Newton, the Librarian,

the board of trustees or the mayor.

Here in your recipe for mayonnaise:

Yolk of one egg; one cup of oil; 2 teaspoons of vinegar or lemon juice; 1/2 teaspoon of salt; dash of red pepper; 1-2 teaspoonsful of mustard. Beat the egg in a cold dish with a silver or wooden fork. When the egg is beaten, add the oil drop by drop, being careful to beat well without reversing the motion for fear of curdling. When the dressing thickens begin adding the vinegar drop by drop. Then add more olive oil, then more acid, continuing until they are all consumed. If the mixture should curdle, begin immediately with a fresh egg in a fresh dish, and when it is well beaten add carefully the curdled mixture, drop by drop.

To color mayonnaise green, add one tablespoon of sage-twig herbs to the finished dressing; or chop parsley leaves very fine; pound them in a small quantity of lemon juice; strain and add the juice to the dressing. To color it red, rub one want tablespoon of lobster coral through a fine sieve and add it to the salad dressing. To make white mayonnaise follow the ordinary directions, using lemon juice instead of vinegar, omitting the mustard and adding, when finished, a half cup of whipped cream or half an egg white beaten very stiff.

Dear Miss Wise—I would like for you to advise me about an endless chain. I got a letter saying that 1

by FRANCES TREND MONTGOMERY

It so happened that they were at this time following the course of a little river which ran between sleep banks of great rocks. Billy's sharp eyes soon detected an opening between two of these large enough for him to go in, so he went. To his surprise this opening grew in size as he advanced until shortly he found himself in a dark cave as big as a large room. There couldn't have been a better place for them to spend the day. A little brook ran through the cave so that the supply of good water was abundant.

It was plain to be seen from the bones scattered about that sometime this cave had been the home of wild animals, probably wolves or bears, but there were no signs of recent occupancy, so Billy was not disturbed by any fears.

Giving out, he hastily summoned the monkeys and told them of his fortunate discovery of a good hiding place and bade them to lose no time in getting out of sight as it would soon be broad daylight. This they did in a hurry, Colonel Mandrill leading the way.

You might suppose that by this time they must have all been very hungry, and so they would but on their way during the night they had passed many fields where there was plenty of corn and pumpkins, through orchards where the boughs of the trees were bending beneath their weight of beautiful, ripe, spikes, through cabbage patches and fields of turnips. At the time they had helped themselves to everything they wanted.

If they were not hungry, they were certainly tired. The excitement of the railroad wreck and the unusual exertions of a two hours tramp were enough to bring weariness to even the youngest and frailest of the monkeys. Soon it was quiet in the cave except for the snoring of Colonel Mandrill, who never could sleep quietly. Evening had come before even Billy Whiskers, who had the responsibility of the expedition on his hands, roused himself to everything he wanted. He had to speak to the guests, among whom were Madame E. P. Stronher, W. E. Benjamins, Emory Fannin, James Disbrow, G. H. Hogan, A. E. Purcell, Mesdames A. M. Whiting, C. G. Norris, Eva Joseph, Florence Goddard, C. G. Clay, Daley Brown, C. L. Shiff, J. W. Baker, A. F. Moatz, Pearl Welman, C. W. Scaggs, Guy Ackley, L. W. Crookshanks, J. F. Munyon, Louella Burns, C. B. Warren, William Keatle, J. E. Battif, M. L. Stevenson, Willard Bertram, Misses May Wildig, Eddie Hollack, Thelma Hogan, Helen Whitley, Morris Clancy Stanley, Clarence Stanley and Earl Murray.

Monday being the eighth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Elva Newman of High street, they were given a surprise last evening by a number of relatives and friends, who presented them with a beautiful mahogany clock and candlesticks. Violins and piano music and games were the pastimes. Misses Thelma Hogan and Helen Whitley winning favors in the guessing contest. Later delicious cake and coffee were served to the guests, among whom were: Mesdames E. P. Stronher, W. E. Benjamins, Emory Fannin, James Disbrow, G. H. Hogan, A. E. Purcell, Mesdames A. M. Whiting, C. G. Norris, Eva Joseph, Florence Goddard, C. G. Clay, Daley Brown, C. L. Shiff, J. W. Baker, A. F. Moatz, Pearl Welman, C. W. Scaggs, Guy Ackley, L. W. Crookshanks, J. F. Munyon, Louella Burns, C. B. Warren, William Keatle, J. E. Battif, M. L. Stevenson, Willard Bertram, Misses May Wildig, Eddie Hollack, Thelma Hogan, Helen Whitley, Morris Clancy Stanley, Clarence Stanley and Earl Murray.

On Saturday evening the 21st, Mrs. Newman will meet for an all-day quilting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Oscar Thiel, 2623 Galbraith street. A business meeting will be held at 1 o'clock, for which each member is asked to have her teachers' training book.

The informal luncheon to be given Friday, December 3, at one o'clock in the All Saints' Parish House, is for all members of the federated clubs in the city. Tickets may be obtained by calling 2113 or 610 by Wednesday evening. An interesting feature of the luncheon will be a talk by Miss Gwendolyn Cline of Cleveland.

Mrs. William Harlan has returned to her home in West Union after a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Fox, Mrs. Chester Davis, Mrs. H. W. Dreessen and Miss Helen Wells of Fourth street.

Samuel Hull of Marysville, Ky., is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hull, 532 Fifth street.

The Martha Washington Club will be entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Howard Deerr, 1417 Findlay street.

Mrs. Ethel McColl and son, Ralph Louis, of Fourth street, have returned from a visit with relatives in Matewan, W. Va.

The ladies of the Franklin Avenue M. E. church have arranged to serve a church supper Thursday evening from 5 until 8 o'clock, to which the public is invited.

SINK OR SWIM

It's a Mile-Minute Special and so is the Big Sunshine Comedy, That Goes With It.

Ever see a picture that tickled you so much you just couldn't help thinking for weeks afterward? Well, that's how George Walsh's "Sink or Swim" will affect you! This big red-blooded Westerner is sent ahead by his father on a business mission and the experience he has on his way over and after he gets there would put one of those won't-come-off smiles on the face of a stone image.

We won't even give you a hint of what we want you to have as much fun out of it as we did and we won't spoil a single bit of your enjoyment by giving anything away before hand.

And don't forget about the zippy Sunshine Comedy that's on too.

THE LITTLE WANDERER
WILLIAM FOX PRODUCTION

Mix a Few Tears; Twice as Many Laughs; and Season with the Biggest Star of All, "Shirley Mason," and You'll Have "The Little Wanderer" at the Strand Tonight. And a Good Pollard Comedy will be Shown Also.

Dainty Shirley Mason, one of the youngest and most successful female stars of pictures, will be the attraction at the Strand tonight in "The Little Wanderer." Although this is only Miss Mason's fourth starring picture she has already risen to the heights of popularity with the American movie patrons. Her work in the picturization of Robert Lewis Stevenson's "Treasure Island," in which she played the stoutness Jim Hawkins, will long be remembered as an exceedingly forceful and natural characterization.

In "The Little Wanderer," Miss Mason plays the part of a "nobody." Of course in the end she turns out to be "somebody," and a "somebody" who is very dear to a certain young man, instead of a motherless, fatherless little wanderer. She is also given the opportunity in this interesting comedy drama to appear in long, slim clothes and with her bobbed hair and slim figure she makes an attractive and pictureque boy. The romance begins when the young man who befriended her discovers that she is a girl and helps her to obtain a position as a waitress in a third class restaurant.

Program Tonight

A—Musical Prologue to the Feature

B—Feature, "God's Country and the Woman."

C—Screen Snapshots.

D—Comedy, Jimmy Aubrey in "The Trouble Hunters."

A terrific fight for the life and honor of a woman features "God's Country and the Woman," the picturization of James Oliver Curwood's famous story of the northern timber lands, which may be seen at the Eastland theatre tonight, last time.

A murderous gang from the "Devil's Nest," armed and barricaded in their lair, are waging a losing fight against the enraged woodsmen who have rallied to the aid of the woman. The leader of the gang, seeking fortune turning against him, is about to make his escape, taking the woman with with the chiropractors while the court of appeals ruled with the medical board which has been demanding an examination.

But help comes from an unexpected quarter. When human strength has failed her the woman unleashes the hunting fury of the wolfounds she has made her strange companion and they leap to the kill.

It is a thrilling climax to a dramatic story of rare power and vigor. The acting of William Duncan, the featured player, and the all-star cast, the faithfulness of the settings to the atmosphere of the far woods and the simplicity, artistry and charm of Curwood's story and its visualization on the screen makes a production that will linger long and vividly in the memory of those who see it.

Can Get Bet That Obregon Will Be Killed

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 30.—Major Harry S. Bryan, Ohio man, who is visiting here today after 30 years in Mexico and points along the border, said, "You can get a bet today in Mexico City that President-elect Obregon will be assassinated before he's inaugurated."

Ignorance of the Mexican people is so general that many instances persons living 25 miles from the capital don't know who is president, Bryan declared.

Eight million of Mexico's thirteen million people don't know who heads their government, he asserted.

"Many Mexicans believe that another revolution will mean intervention; they realize that if they don't run things right themselves someone will have to do it for them," Bryan said.

FORMER STOCKDALE BOY SHOT AND KILLED IN IOWA

It Is Not Known Whether He Was Shot By Marshal Or Pal; Stolen Auto Was Recovered

Harold G. Bennett, aged 19, who had last June resided near Stockdale in Pike county, was shot and killed in Seymour, Iowa, by his pal Frank Snyder or by Marshal H. N. Lord of that place.

The jury which was impaneled to investigate Bennett's death rendered a verdict that Bennett died from bullet wounds inflicted by Marshal Lord or Frank Snyder.

Snyder and Bennett had stolen an automobile and when halted by Marshal Lord in Seymour the shooting began and a number of shots were exchanged. Bennett fell back mortally wounded and when told he had only a short time to live he gave the officials the name and address of his grandmother near Stockdale.

According to word received at Stockdale, Snyder was not arrested and is still enjoying his liberty.

Relative to the killing of Bennett the Herald of Seymour, Ia., recently said:

"Last Friday night between 11 and 12 o'clock, a portion of our city was considerably alive, for shots were flying and the territory around the Shriver garage was the place of the excitement.

In the afternoon Friday, Marshal Lord had received word that some stolen autos were headed this way from Washington, Ia., the thieves having been traced that far. Mr. Lord requested Mr. Shriver to keep his garage open that evening, thinking they might come through town and stop for gasoline. While waiting a Buick touring car drove up with two

Beauty Secrets For Women

There is but one thing that holds us age back, and that is health. Sickness and weakness bring old wrinkles and hollow eyes early in life. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a building-up medicine for women. It makes them healthy and strong when they suffer from women's troubles. It keeps them looking young by keeping them well. This Prescription of Dr. Pierce's is a woman's tonic for the frail, the delicate and those who are nervous, dizzy, and who have backache and dragging feelings. Try it now—tincture or liquid.

After the tragedy had taken place, Mr. Wilson was called and asked if his car was at home, the answer came back yes, that his sons had just returned from town, but they were advised to go and seen then the report came back that it was gone.

Bennett and Snyder had worked for Mr. Wilson during harvest, but had gone to Oklahoma some time ago and it was not known they were again in the country until they were caught here. Mr. Bennett, before he died, said this was the first time he had ever been in such a scrape and that Snyder had started him into committing the theft.

A jury found that Harold Bennett came to his death by gun-shot wounds, the said gun-shot wounds being inflicted by gun in the hands of Frank Snyder and H. N. Lord, the said Lord being the city marshal of Seymour and the said jury are unable to know whether the said gun-shot wound inflicted by the said H. N. Lord or the gun-shot wound inflicted by the said Frank Snyder was the shot that killed said Harold Bennett. The jury further find that the shooting by said H. N. Lord was justifiable and excusable, and with that he took the key to the car. Upon going in the garage Mr. Shriver told him he would call Mr. Wilson. At this Mr. Lord turned around to see the two men beating it with their sticks. He commanded them to halt but they did not heed, so then fired into the air, blinking to stop them, but they still kept on. He again shot and this was answered by the bandits, but he had hit Harold Bennett of Stockdale, Ohio. By this time Lord was close to Bennett and he (Bennett) raised a flashlight he was carrying and struck at Lord.

About this time Frank Snyder, whom it afterwards was learned to be the second party, and was located east of the blacksmith shop, shot and also hit Bennett as it developed later. Bennett then staggered over into the Shriver yard, and fell. Marshal Lord did not know whether Bennett was hit or not and stepped along the side of the blacksmith shop as Snyder kept on firing. After a few moments Lord went back to the garage and had Shriver drive in auto so the fight would fall on Bennett to see if he had been hit or was only waiting to get a shot at Lord, as he also carried a gun, afterward discovered not to contain any loads. They could tell from the position he was lying in that he had been hit. A hurried call was put in for Dr. Hurt, and soon James Morrison, J. E. Scott and R. E. Jamison were on the scene. Bennett was carried to the Shriver garage where he lived about 50 minutes. He asked Dr. Hurt if he was done, for, and after being told he had only a short time to live, he gave his name, the address of his grandmother, as she was the only relative, also he gave the name of his partner as Frank Snyder, stating they both lived in the same county in Ohio.

After the tragedy had taken place, Mr. Wilson was called and asked if his car was at home, the answer came back yes, that his sons had just returned from town, but they were advised to go and seen then the report came back that it was gone.

Business Woman Near Cincinnati Highly Recommends Vola-Tonic For The Good It Did Her

"I could notice a big improvement after taking the first bottle, but I kept on taking Vola-Tonic and now I have taken four bottles in all. I am feeling like a different person."

Mrs. Martha Arthur, 1044 Scott street, Corning, Ky., a business woman and the owner of Arthur's Hat Shop, highly recommends Vola-Tonic and says she feels like a new person since taking this medicine.

"The tired, worn-out feeling I used to have is gone and I feel like keeping on the go all the time. I still eat my meals irregularly, but anyway my stomach is in good condition since taking Vola-Tonic. I have a good appetite all the time. It seems like I can't get enough to eat and I have gained ten pounds."

"I'm feeling fine now and I'm glad to recommend Vola-Tonic to anybody who feels tired and worn out like I did."

The strengthening, health-building properties of Vola-Tonic affect every part of the body. It brings a good appetite, places the stomach in good condition, enriches and builds up the blood and soothes the nerves. As a result, strength and good health come to weakened, run-down men and women.

VOLA-TONIC, "Builder of Strength," is sold in Port Huron by Fisher & Stretch and all other good druggists.

NOTE: All Vola-Tonic testimonials are absolutely the whole truth. The official signed testimonials are on file at the office of the Vola-Tonic Co., Cincinnati, O., and are open for inspection of the public at any time.—Adv.

litical expediency. On the other hand, the Republican leaders already encounter with this query: Would President Wilson sign a Republican tax bill especially one that proposed the raising of revenue by the imposition of a protective tariff? White House officials say Mr. Wilson would sign a tariff bill if it followed the lines of suggestions on that question which he has already made to Congress. The president has favored protection for infant industries and others whose economic relationship to the tariff question has been disturbed by war but he has by no means indicated that he would sanction the kind of tariff bill which the Republicans would put before him.

High Protectionists May Run Rampant

To work any kind of tariff will take practically all of a session of congress and leaders of both sides agree that unless there was an agreement of compromise the time would be wasted. But the Republicans who want high protection care nothing about a compromise bill and without any influence from the White House, the tariff bill that would be drawn would be strongly protectionist.

Even Warren Harding will have his difficulties keeping the advocates of a high tariff from going to extremes so the prospects of a compromise bill are brighter under the next Republican administration than in the short session of congress about to begin.

Practically the same situation exists with regard to taxes. Efforts will surely be made to get relief from tax burdens and it will be more difficult for the Republicans to ignore the tax question than the tariff. It is fully

"I have no knowledge of where this money paid me by Mr. Sands came from."

"Mr. Sands also made me a loan of $200 on May 21, 1918, for which I gave him my note. This was repaid by me to him July 14, 1919. This represents every cent Mr. Sands has paid me since December 31, 1917."

"Of the $80,000 which Mr. Sands says was paid for procuring contracts, I never heard of it until it was mentioned in anonymous letters, coupled with threats that unless something was done to stop the proceedings of the department of justice against Mr. Sands, that my name would be brought into it."

Mr. Rollig said that the committee would find available an anonymous letter addressed to W. G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, and all other records in connection with the affair.

LONDON, November 29.—Public buildings in London and in many of the other large cities of England were closely guarded against anticipated Sinn Fein attacks by heavy detachments of police and detectives last night. In this city the patrol was not limited to the streets, but armed motor boats moved up and down the Thames in front of parliament buildings. With Downing street and its immediate neighborhood shut off from the rest of the city by a high fence, which was constantly under the eyes of uniformed men, and with the parliament building surrounded, government sections of London today assumed the atmosphere of an armed camp.

Concerning the defeat of the Portsmouth Eleven by the Ironton Tanks, Sunday, the Ironton Register says, editorially:

"A CLEAN CUT VICTORY"

"A memorable and long anticipated game between the football crews representing Portsmouth and Ironton established their claim to the class of history and we claim for the Ironton heroes their full measure of praise and glory. They went out and meeting every condition imposed by the officials in charge of the game for the excellence of their work, their impartiality and competence. We rejoice in paying tribute to the thousands of fans who were present for their sportsmanlike conduct and the utter absence of bitterness. We commend the brave and splendid players on both teams and their conduct throughout the grueling contest. Time and again players on the opposing team could be seen helping prostrate players on the other team to their feet and putting them on the back. The game was clean, fast and free from anything that could be construed as an advantage to either side. The fast team won, it was a triumph of speed over strength, brains over brawn, class over weight. Portsmouth was a worthy foe, Ironton did not win with ease, the boys had to win by sheer force and ability. Every inch was contested bitterly. We rejoice exceedingly that the Tanks went through the game with practically the same team. It started with, while the visitors in their desperation called in at different times more than enough men to form a second team, but the longer they came the weaker they got. It was a clean cut victory, a slashing, whistling, scorching triumph over the slow moving, heavy pedaling team which had been trained to the minute for the game. There can be no allies and we believe Portsmouth will not try to excuse their defeat. The Ironton boys were the class of the day. They won strictly on their merits and the success of the game should show the lovers of clean sport that it always pays to play the game as true sportsmen. Portsmouth and Ironton should stage an annual game, alternating the play in the two cities. The spirit of friendly rivalry should be fostered. We extend congratulations to the Big Green eleven of Ironton and hail them as the class of all this section."

Protest Sounded Against Bringing Sunday To Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 30.—Unanimously by a chorus of disapprovals, the Rev. J. B. Ascham, pastor of Walbridge Hill M. E. church, protested strongly at the Methodist Ministers' Association meeting Monday against bringing Billy Sunday to Cincinnati to conduct a revival. "After close observation of a six-weeks' meeting conducted by Mr. Sunday, I believe that it would be a calamity to bring him here," the minister, who is widely known because of his overseas service with the Cincinnati Base hospital, said. "Men and women who are thoughtful and sincerely given to Christian service and who may be brought to have part in this thing will find it to have part in this thing without discussing further the subject, because I see that it will not have any effect. I must protest, from the depths of my being, against the methods of Sunday and against that evangelist holding a revival here."

Although on a motion put by the Rev. D. Lee Aufmann, the vote to reinforce the proposed revival, which they had at a former meeting officially approved, was favorable, a number of clergymen gathered about Dr. Ascham at the close of the meeting to state that they fully agreed with him.

Dr. A. B. Austin of the Madisonville M.-E. church asked, during the discussion, whether it would be necessary to close the churches during the Sunday revival. "I have been told that in Springfield this was done, and it was more than a year before many of those who stopped attending their own church to go to the revival could be brought back to morning services," he said.

Dr. W. H. Wehrle, district superintendent, raised the question whether ministers would be free to pledge the support of their churches to the revival, without first consulting with their quarterly conferences.

"Surely Methodist ministers are free enough to take their own stand," was the reply of Charles Major, who is chairman of the Sunday committee. "I have studied Sunday's work to the part seven years and I know what we can do."

Secretary H. P. Atkins of the Federation of Churches, presenting plans for the revival, stated that the meetings will begin about March 10, and continue throughout April 11. An effort is still being made, it is understood, to secure the old hospital site at Twelfth and Central avenue for the tabernacle.

Italians Get Protest Of Irish Conditions

ROME, Nov. 30—Members of the Italian chamber of deputies and senate have received a strong protest concerning the latest serious events in Ireland from the Irish clergy headed by Cardinal Logue, archbishop of Armagh. Facts enumerated in the protest and the language used, have produced a profound impression, especially among members of the Catholic party, who, it is asserted, have taken a decided attitude in favor of Ireland.

It is expected interpretations will be presented in the chamber and senate, asking the government if it is not possible for the friendly powers to interfere, either directly or through the League of Nations, to obtain a solution that would end the present condition of affairs in Ireland.

102 Arrests in Anti-Crisis Crusade
YOUNGSTOWN, O., November 30.—With 200 arrests reported yesterday morning, police last night arrested 102 persons in an anti-crisis crusade with the result that not a single robbery or hold-up was reported this morning.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup just easily prepared in five minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pine, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of real, better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pine and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and eases the sore, irritated throat. It comes to market and easily takes it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pine is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine New Zealand extract. It has been used for generations to treat colds, coughs and anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pine Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

$100,000 IN BONDS ARE FOUND

TORONTO, Nov. 30.—John Dougherty, former secretary to Ambrose J. Small, Toronto, long missing millionaire theatrical magnate, arrived here today in custody of officials who brought him from Oregon, where he was arrested in connection with Small's mysterious disappearance.

Dougherty was taken from the railroad station in a special police automobile.

Dougherty's first act after he left the station was to reveal the hiding place of $100,000 worth of Canadian victory bonds, hidden in the home here of Mrs. Lovett, his sister. He handed the securities, which were reported missing for some time, to the police.

Dougherty was brought here for arraignment on charges of theft of the bonds as well as for conspiracy to kidnap Small.

Herb Sap is now sold here at Fisher & Stretch's Pharmacy. If your favorite druggist is out of it, have him get it for you from his wholesaler. Add.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER.

UST around the corner lies a new era of the soundest prosperity America has ever known.

Business just now appears to be in the doldrums, but in reality the trend toward better conditions already has set in. It may require a few months development, but it is certain to come as day is followed by night.

Business men everywhere who have studied the situation know this to be true. The wise merchant and the wise manufacturers are they who are clearing their decks and getting ready to start afresh with the dawn of the new day.

The workmen who have been dropped from the rolls of the railroads and the big corporations will all find themselves either back at their old jobs soon or otherwise employed. There has been for a long time a shortage of labor in many lines, because workmen have not been attracted to work where the pay was very high.

The readjustment will take many of these back to their old jobs and shortly we shall start off again with full steam, every man in his place, and the ever-growing demands of a country in need of many things stimulating each to do his best to fill the fast-increasing orders.

SHORTAGE OF POSTAL WORKERS

HE shortage of postal workers disclosed in the United States civil service commission's announcement of weekly examinations to fill vacancies is attributable to the low salaries paid. There is hope, however, that the sympathy which the public has for these hard-working employees of the government will lead to further improvement in their pay. As was pointed out at the time of the last increase granted them, their gain was not to be measured by the raise received, but by the general recognition that it was inadequate, which is assurance that additional consideration cannot be denied them.

Compelled to face every sort of weather, burdened at the holiday season and on special occasions like political campaigns, when material is sent through the mails in such large quantity, by heavy loads, the letter carriers have no easy task. The people realize that they are entitled to more generous salaries than are now paid.

The work has its compensating feature, however. To the man chained from morning until night to a desk a job which permits one to be in the open as much as the postman is not unattractive. Walking and fresh air are as beneficial as they are reputed to be, and a letter carrier's work should be promotive of health.

PHOTOGRAPHS BY WIRE

OST persons probably will never have occasion to make use of the new invention by which a photograph can be transmitted by wire and reproduced in a receiving instrument a great distance away. The invention, which was demonstrated successfully between New York and St. Louis, is of more academic interest, however.

Its value is likely to be greatest to newspapers. Pictures of important happenings which, if they occur at a distance of 1,000 miles or more from the city where the newspaper is printed, cannot be published until a day or more—in the case of foreign countries sometimes not for weeks—after the news, which has been telegraphed, has appeared, will be published simultaneously with the news as the new device is perfected and comes into general use.

It promises also to be of service to the police. In sending a message to the authorities of a city toward which a fugitive from justice is heading, to arrest a man, the police are sometimes handicapped by being unable to describe him in words with sufficient accuracy or vividness to insure apprehension. A photograph following by mail may be too late. But if a photographic description can accompany the order for the arrest, the criminal's chances of escaping will be much reduced.

The invention is another step in bringing the world closer together.

The average man is more successful in living up to his ideals than to his ideals.

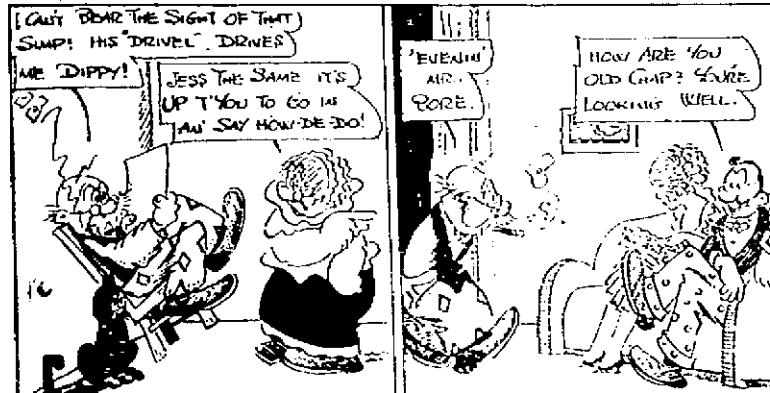

When a man works hard to get into politics he finds a lot of folks with a disposition to kick him out.

A man may not require legal advice once a year, but he likes to boast about the ability of his lawyer.

The person who discovers he is wrong before he begins to lose money should consider himself fortunate.

When a man sells out his so-called good name it is usually found that at least two persons are cheated.

MOLLY AND HER PALS

For All Of Which Pa's Very Thankful

Both English and Chinese.
Chinatown had its beginning in San Francisco in 1849, according to California authorities, when Chinese coolies were encouraged to come to this country to work on the construction of the Central Pacific Railroad. It was the same coolie class that laid the foundation of all other Chinatowns in America. Later came the merchant and leisure classes, but never in such great numbers.

"The old Chinatown," explained a San Franciscan, "contained over 25,000 inhabitants, whereas the present one contains about 20,000. Many of those who fled the fire located elsewhere and never came back. The section used to be composed of dilapidated tenements and rockeries two to five stories high, divided by narrow alleys that were swarming day and night with the occupants of the first-floor stores and basements. Nearly every house had its solar and sub-solar, usually given over to the use of opium, gambling and other infamies. The Joss houses were numerous then, and Chinese music, which is so exasperating to Occidental ears, constantly issued from them."

"The theaters, too, were more numerous. All the actors were men. Women being forbidden in the Chinese theatrical profession, the scenery was primitive—often nothing at all; the play was without plot, so far as an Occidental could see, and it often took days and even weeks before the final curtain descended on the last act."

"The new Chinatown is a reproduction of the old, but it is much cleaner, much healthier, and less wicked. It is also much grander, for there are now several Chinese millionaires, and many substantial business houses filled with the richest products of the Orient."

WHO'S WHO
In The Days News

WILLIAM B. MCKINLEY

Senator-Elect William B. McKinley attracted attention during the campaign for nomination in the Illinois primaries last summer. The Thompson machine waged a bitter fight against him and defeated him in the Chicago district. He won out by picking up a big majority in the down-state territory.

Q. What is the meaning of the abbreviation D. V.?

A. The letters "D. V." are the accepted abbreviation for "Deo volunt."

Q. What is acetic ether and how produced?

A. Acetic ether is more generally known as acetic ester. It is an ester of acetic acid, especially the ethyl ester, or ethyl acetate, a colorless liquid of agreeable odor. The aroma of vinegar is partly due to its presence.

Acetic ester is obtained by the action of metallic sodium on the ester formed by the union of acetic acid and ordinary alcohol. Acetic acid is the same principle of vinegar, an acid composed chemically of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen.

Q. What is arbitrage?

A. This is a term applied to transactions taking advantage of difference in price in different markets for the same articles. At the same time the trader buys in the cheaper market, he sells in the dearer. The margin between the two prices must be more than the cost of exchange in order to show a profit. Arbitrage transactions are usually in bullion or coin, bills and exchanges, or stocks and bonds.

Q. What is the technical term of a suicide?

A. The legal term is "felon de se."

Literally, "felon to himself."

McKinley has taken an active interest in Illinois politics for more than twenty years. He began his first term in congress in 1885. In the 1892 election he went down to defeat along with President Taff, whose campaign he managed. Two years later, however, he returned to congress, where he has since served the Nineteenth Illinois district.

MURDER AND ARSON CONTINUE IN IRELAND

CORK CITY HALL SET ON FIRE

BELFAST, November 30.—The city hall at Cork was set on fire this morning and reports from that city state the Thomas Ashe Sinn Fein Club and the Charlotte Quay are ablaze. Much damage has been done, it is stated.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—A bomb was exploded at one o'clock this morning in the building occupied by a hide merchant in oil Swan Lane near London bridge. A floor of the building was wrecked but nobody was injured. The premises of the Sinn Fein Bank in Harcourt street, Dublin were set on fire early this morning, says a message to the Exchange telegraph from Dublin.

MACHRISH, IRELAND, Nov. 30.—Two lorries loads of recruits in training for the Black and Tan auxiliary police, were ambushed near here last night by from eighty to one hundred men and fifteen of them were killed. The bodies were brought here this evening.

Heavy reprisals have begun and reports from the village of Johnstown state that scarcely a house there is undamaged and that most of the shops in the district have been set on fire. The residents are fleeing from the place in terror.

London An Armed Camp

LONDON, November 30.—Public buildings in London and in many of the other large cities of England were closely garrisoned against apprehended Sinn Fein attacks by heavy detachments of police and detectives last night. In this city the patrol was not limited to the streets, but armed motor boats moved up and down the Thames in front of parliament buildings. With Downing street and its immediate neighborhood shut off from the rest of the city by a high fence, which was constantly under the eyes of uniformed men, and with the parliament building surrounded, government sections of London today assumed the atmosphere of an armed camp.

Food In Storage In Ohio Slumps During November

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 30.—The amount of food in cold storage warehouses in Ohio during November slumped greatly, due to declining prices during the month, or the anticipation of breaks in the market, the report of the state bureau of markers issued today shows.

Holders of stored meats, butter and other commodities evidently attempted to unload before the market declined below the prices at which food was selling when stored, the report shows.

Although the amount of stored food is less this month than last, in most instances it is greater now than this time last year.

The biggest instances of unloading was in frozen pork and beef. Frozen pork holdings decreased from 2,885,832 pounds in October to 1,885,830 in November and frozen beef holdings from 1,456,221 pounds in October to 301,030 pounds in November.

JAPS WILL NOT DEMAND RACE EQUALITY

GENEVA, November 30.—The Japanese delegation will not make any proposal for racial equality at this session of the assembly of the League of Nations, it was announced by Viscount Ishii at this morning's session of the assembly.

"Japan will patiently bide her time," said Viscount Ishii, "until an opportunity shall present itself."

The Japanese delegation, he added, also decided to withdraw its protest against annual meetings of the assembly, although it requires five months time for a delegation from Japan to make the long journey and return.

He recommended that meetings once in two years with special meetings in emergencies but said he would not press the point.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

UST around the corner lies a new era of the soundest prosperity America has ever known.

Business just now appears to be in the doldrums, but in reality the trend toward better conditions already has set in. It may require a few months development, but it is certain to come as day is night.

Business men everywhere who have studied the situation know this to be true. The wise merchant and the wise manufacturer are they who are clearing their decks and getting ready to start afresh with the dawn of the new day.

The workmen who have been dropped from the rolls of the railroads and the big corporations will all find themselves either back at their old jobs soon or otherwise employed. There has been for a long time a shortage of labor in many lines, because workmen have been attracted to work where the pay was very high.

The readjustment will take many of these back to their old jobs and shortly we shall start off again with full steam, every man in his place and the ever-growing demands of a country in need of many things stimulating each to do his best to fill the fast-increasing orders.

SHORTAGE OF POSTAL WORKERS

T HE shortage of postal workers disclosed in the United States civil service commission's announcement of weekly examinations to fill vacancies is attributable to the low salaries paid. There is hope, however, that the sympathy which the public has for these hard-working employees of the government will lead to further improvement in their pay. As was pointed out at the time of the last increase granted them, their gain was not to be measured by the raise received, but by the general recognition that it was inadequate, which is assurance that additional consideration cannot be denied them.

Compelled to face every sort of weather, burdened at the holiday season and on special occasions like political campaigns, when material is sent through the mails in such large quantity, by heavy pack, the letter carriers have no easy task. The people realize that they are entitled to more generous salaries than are now paid.

The work has its compensating feature, however. To the man chained from morning until night to a desk a job which permits one to be in the open as much as the postman is not unattractive. If walking and fresh air are as beneficial as they are reputed to be, the letter carrier's work should be promotive of health.

PHOTOGRAPHS BY WIRE

M OST persons probably will never have occasion to make use of the new invention by which a photograph can be transmitted by wire and reproduced in a receiving instrument a great distance away. The invention, which was demonstrated successfully between New York and St. Louis, is of more than academic interest, however.

Its value is likely to be greatest to newspapers. Pictures of important happenings which, if they occur at a distance of 1,000 miles or more from the city where the newspaper is printed, cannot be published until a day or more—in the case of foreign countries sometimes not for weeks—after the news, which has been telegraphed, has appeared, will be published simultaneously with the news as the new device is perfected and comes into general use.

It promises also to be of service to the police. In sending a message to the authorities of a city toward which a fugitive from justice is heading, to arrest a man, the police are sometimes handicapped by being unable to describe him in words with sufficient accuracy or vividness to insure apprehension. A photograph following by mail may be too late. But if a photographic description can accompany the order for the arrest, the criminal's chances of escaping will be much reduced.

The invention is another step in bringing the world closer together.

The average man is more successful in living up to his ideals than to his ideals.

When a man works hard to get into politics he finds a lot of folks with a disposition to kick him out.

A man may not require legal advice once a year, but he likes to boast about the ability of his lawyer.

The person who discovers he is wrong before he begins to lose money should consider himself fortunate.

When a man sells out his so-called good name it is usually found that at least two persons are cheated.

POLLY AND HER PALS

CHINATOWN ON SHOW

By Frederic J. Haskin

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF., Nov. 26.—San Francisco has the largest and most essentially typical Chinatown in America. People who knew it before the fire declare that its charm disappeared with that catastrophe. By this, of course, we mean that most of its colossal gilt and whitewashed is gone. But the visitor wandering about its queer irregular streets, finds it still exotic and pictureque.

One moment you are in Portsmouth Square, before the monument of Robert Louis Stevenson, and a moment later you are in a narrow Chinese byway, containing numerous Chinese markets, drug stores, restaurants and clothing shops. Colloquies in dull native garb, through the sidewalk, and occasionally a Chinese housewife, a brilliant Chinese basket on her arm, trips silently into a temple.

The markets are worth investigating in themselves. Always they are crowded with tiers and tiers of wooden coops reaching all the way to the low ceiling and containing nervous rabbits, frantic hens and impudent ducks and geese. Nearly the same species are exhibited in their popular dried form, looking very much as if they had received a coat of yellow varnish. Some of them have been chopped into small, cord-like necklaces, which is also the state to which beef, pork and mutton are reduced.

But the principal trade of the market, as you can easily detect, is fish. There are big fish and little fish; fresh fish and dried fish; and fish of every hue and shape. Chinese men, it seems are devoted to fish, and fish are sent from all parts of the Pacific to gratify their fishy appetites. Here you find huge, black-bellied sunfish, spotted sharks, piles of flounders, carp and curiously yellow cod.

Chinese Chow

Even the Chinese restaurants of San Francisco are more Chinese than those encountered elsewhere. Many of them have a wide and permanent patronage among San Franciscans off Anglo-Saxons stock, who are disappointed if they miss their weekly treat of a Chinatown's delicacy. Patience is the plight of the visitor who happens to have seen eat such acquaintances, for each and all of them are eager and insistent to share this treat with him. The fact that an appetite for Chinese food must be created by a strong and persistent effort of the will seems never to have occurred to them.

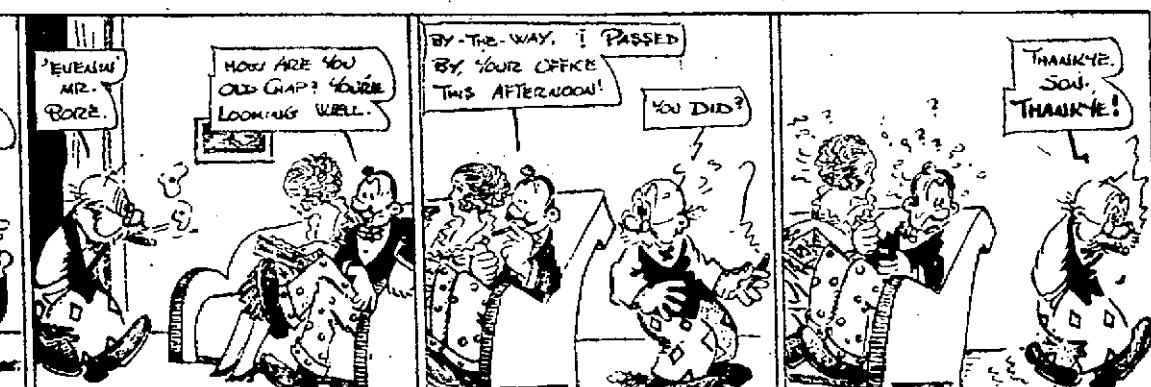

Usually, the meal begins with Chop Suey, which is a sort of complicated and comprehensive hash, apparently containing, among many other things, old shoe leather and wooden shavings flavored with rusty pipe juice. The second course, if you are lucky, may be nothing more alarming than fried rice, chicken and shrimp, rendered as dry and withered as possible. Then comes the prize of the collection—Cho Gung—a sort of soup supposed to contain meat, eggs, mushrooms and beans. If the dinner is not carried away unconscious at this juncture, eggs are brought in. And such eggs only the Chinese know how to prepare. They are the eggs of yesterday, and yet the year before, or maybe they are eggs passed down like old wine from the early Ming dynasty.

No butter is served with a Chinese dinner, the Chinese hating butter in fierce contempt. You smelle all same butter, it is one of the deadliest insults a Chinaman can level at an Oriental, but we may all be thankful that they do not say we smell like eggs.

There are only two articles on the menu of a Chinese table which are acceptable to the uninitiated palate, and these are the dessert—usually a delicious, rich fruit served in honey—and the tea. More than any other race the Chinese know how to make tea.

CHINATOWN ON SHOW

Lob English and Chinese.

Chinatown had its beginning in San Francisco in 1850, according to California authorities, when Chinese coolies were encouraged to come to this country to work on the construction of the Central Pacific Railroad. It was the same coolie class that laid the foundation of all other Chinatowns in America. Later came the merchant and leisure classes, but never in such great numbers.

"The old Chinatown," explained a San Franciscan, "contained over 25,000 inhabitants, whereas the present one contains about 20,000. Many of those who fled the fire located elsewhere and never came back. The section used to be composed of dilapidated tenements and rockeries from two to three stories high, divided by narrow alleys that were swarming day and night with the occupants of the first-floor stores and basements. Nearly every house had its cellar and sub-cellars, usually given over to the use of opium, gambling and other infamies. The Joss houses were more numerous than, and Chinese music, which is so exuberant to Oedipus ears, constantly issued from them."

The theaters, too, were more numerous. All the actors were men, women being forbidden to the Chinese theater profession; the scenery was primitive—nothing nothing at all; the play was without plot, so far as an Oedipus could see, and it often took days and even weeks before the final curtain descended on the last act.

The new Chinatown is a reproduction of the old, but it is much cleaner, much healthier, and less wicked. It is also much grander, for there are now several Chinese millionaires, and many substantial business houses filled with the choicest products of the Orient."

WHO'S WHO
In The Day News

WILLIAM B. McKNIELEY

Senator-Elect William B. McKinley attracted attention during the campaign for nomination in the Illinois primaries last summer. The Thompson machine wiped a bitter fight against him and his supporters.

McKinley was born in the Chinese district of Chago, in 1857. He studied at the University of Illinois two years; but did not graduate. He started his business career as clerk in a store in 1871. Three years later he became manager and partner in the banking and mortgage-loan business of J. H. and W. H. McKinley—a position he still holds. Since 1885 he has also been engaged in the building and operating of public utilities. He is president of the Illinois Traction Company and of the Western Railways and Light system.

McKinley has taken an active interest in Illinois politics for more than twenty years. He began his first term in Congress in 1903. In the 1912 election he went down to defeat along with President Taft, whose campaign he managed. Two years later, however, he returned to congress, where he has since served the Nineteenth Illinois district.

Fire Destroys Dewey Store In Jasper; Loss Near $40,000

Origin Of Fire Is Unknown; Firm's Business To Go Right On; Other Buildings Saved

Dewey's big store building at Jasper, near Piketon, was wiped out by fire of unknown origin about five o'clock this Tuesday morning.

Two hours later the large frame structure and its contents, representing a loss of about $40,000, was nothing but a smoldering ruin.

The fire, which started in the front of the building, was discovered by Charles Slagle, of back of Jasper, who was passing the store on his way to the Sevierville bottoms to shoot corn. He gave the alarm and first awakened Robert and Pearl Vulpinore, who helped in spreading the cry of "fire." It was only a short time before the entire population of the village was on hand to help battle the flames.

At eight o'clock this morning, while smoke was still coming from the ruins, one of the Dewey firm announced that a store would be opened today in a frame building just opposite the J. W. Dewey home, a stock of groceries and notions to be put in the building as soon as the supplies could be gotten to Jasper from Portsmouth or Piketon, Waverly and Chillicothe.

The building destroyed was the main business structure of the firm, which housed the groceries, dry goods, shoes, notions, hats, caps, gloves, blankets, comforters, hardware and a large stock of wallpaper. Deweys have three other frame buildings at Jasper which house their queensware department, furniture department and ready-to-wear and Novelties departments. These build-

EVERTON TO GET HEARING TODAY

The case of Harry Everton, alias Coffey, charged with keeping a place where intoxicating liquors were sold, is scheduled to come up for hearing before Judge Small in Municipal court Tuesday afternoon.

The charge against Everton grew out of the arrest and conviction of J. E. Hatfield on a charge of bootlegging whisky at Everton's soft drink establishment at 1118 Eleventh street. When the place was searched by police a number of bottles, partially filled with liquor, were discovered and confiscated. Everton has retained Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait to defend him. Hatfield languishes at the county jail for lack of funds to pay the $500 as bail.

early next spring. Engineer Harwood announced, but Contractor Simpson is planning to do considerable grading on his contract during the winter months.

Because of some irregularity in the bid of the Monroe company for paving two miles on the Portsmouth-Oak Hill road was recently rejected by the Advisory Board and the work will be advertised.

The job awarded to the Monroe company was for two miles of paving on the Portsmouth-Jackson road and Simpson's contract calls for the construction of approximately three miles of water-bound gravel highway on the Portsmouth-Lucasville western road because of some irregularity in the bid of the Monroe company for paving two miles on the Portsmouth-Oak Hill road was recently rejected by the Advisory Board and the work will be advertised.
